ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAVIS THEATRE.

Three Big Keith Acts, Triangle Photoplays, and Motion Pictures of the Norwich Companies, C. A. C., C. N. G., at Fort Wright, in Training.

If you haven't seen the show at the Davis the first half of this week you are missing one of the finest all round bills that ever played at this house. The feature attraction is The Kiddies' Burglar, a variety sketch with two grown ups, and three clever kiddies. This is an act that appeals to both young and old for the children are very clever and they do some remarkvery clever and they do some remark-able things that can hardly be credvery clever and they do some remarkable things that can hardly be credited, unless one really sees them. The boy plays violin and he is a wonder, the two little girls dance and sing and one yodles, something that is out of the ordinary. If you have a chance to visit the Davis today and see this set don't fail to do so. Arthur Flight to visit the Davis today and see this act, don't fail to do so. Arthur Rigby is another headliner. He is ofiled as the minstrel man and he is a whole show in himself. His stories are all new and up to date and he can keep you laughing. The third act is the Three Musical Avolos, expert xylophonists, and they are without a doubt the greatest artists in their line. Many musical acts have been seen here but musical acts have been seen here but nothing to compare to this trio. There is also an excellent program of photo-plays, the feature is called The Thorplays, the feature is called The Thoroughbred, a five-part ince production, featuring Frank Keenan. This is a story of the south and one that everyone will enjoy. The comedy is called Dollars and Sense, a two-reel Keystene and there is also shown moving pictures of Fort Wright, taken this summer when the two local companies C. A. C., C. N. G., were in training. It gives some views of the Third company firing the 16-inch guns under Captain Church. There will be a new show tomorrow and the latest Chaplin comedy will be shown.

Mrs. D. W. Kingston, R. I. Plain Hill, is

BREED THEATRE

Mary Pickford at Her Greatest-Famous Players' Star Incomparable in Powerful Drama, The Eternal Grind.

It seems almost impossible that a great star can go on eclipsing her previous performances upon the screen time after time, but Mary Pickford's appearance in the Paramount picture. The Eternal Grind, which is the feature at the Breed theatre for today ture at the Breed theatre for today and Thursday, will unquestionably be pronounced her greatest endeavor by public and critics alike.

When Miss Pickford starred in The Foundling it was almost universally declared to be her finest impersonadeclared to be her linest impersona-tion. When ske followed that with Poor Little Pepping that was halled as the greatest of all. But in both of these characterizations Miss Pickford appeared as a vic-tim of circumstances—as an immature child whom fate had fastened upon as child whom fate had fastened upon as a sort of football to be kicked about at will. In these roles she won our sympathy. In The Eternal Grind Miss Pickford is a very mature young lady prematurely ripened by hard work in the factory—whose indomitable will fearlessness, resolution, insenuity and forceful personality compet our ad-miration as well as our sympathy. It is this new note of power which Miss Pickford strikes in coping with the great crises which she faces that will win for The Eternal Grind the verdict of "the greatest she has ever done." There are big scenes in the film—big in their gripping power and in their dramatic force—which make it absorb dramatic force—which make it absorbingly interesting from start to finish.

Today and tomorrow the Breed will also present the first episode of the latest and best of all movie serials.
The Crimson Stain Myslery. The opening chapter is entitled The Brand of Satan and tells the strangest and most absorbing story of modern times.
See for yourself The Crimson Stain
Mystery in the eyes of the master Mystery in the eyes of the master eriminal, the most amazing fiend in history. Follow the picture closely and you may own a beautiful six cylinder automobile. Full details of how to obtain the automobile will be given at

AT THE AUDITORIUM

Today will be the last chance to see the excellent five-act vaudeville bill now playing at this house and all theatregoers should avail themselves theatregoers should avail themselves the transfer it as it is of the opportunity of seeing it as it is one of the best vaudeville shows ever seen here. Anthony and Adele are reone of the best vaudeville shows ever seen here. Anthony and Adele are receiving big applause at every show for their plane accordion playing and whistling numbers, which are all presented in a very finished manner. The Taylor Sisters have a very pretty comedy singing and dancing specialty which is going well. A large green plush drop makes a rich background for their numbers which are all costumed in the very latest designed gowns. Bogart and Nichols have a corking comedy singing and talking skit which is making a decided hit. They also carry their own special stage setting. Carl Francis tells a lot of funny lokes and sings some clever songs which are going over well and Romaine, a well built athletic young man, is doing many hair raising stunts on the trapeze and rings. On the picture program is one of the latest of the Krazy Katz cartoon comedies taken from the drawings in the Boston American and also a funny comedy written by George Ade. Five entirely different acts will be on the bill tomorrow and for the remainder of the week.

Loomer Opera House, Willimantic

Loomer Opera House, Willimantic
Over a year was spent in making the great cinema spectacle, Civilization, which we are to see at the Loomer Opera House, Willimantic, for three days, commencing Thursday, Oct. 19, and as the advertisements tell us, over a million dollars expended in its making. Even discounting both quantities by 30 per cent, we still have the most remarkable thing yet done in the forencom until 5 o'clock in the afternoon to admit those ONLY whose qualifications mature after Oct. 27th and down to Nov. 7, 1916.

POETRY FOR RENT—Furnished rooms or light housekeeping. Inquire L. Zimmerman, 17 Bosweil Ave. oct18d. TO RENT—No. 3s Cilli St. hat of eight rooms, steam heat, electric, gas and hot water connections; possession from Nov. 1st. Inquire Brooklyn Outsitters. THE GAME.

You play the game with your fellowwith honor and circumspect care;
You sit in at cards with a hand again,
And an utterly honest air;
You're, oh, so careful to play your game
With the world so honest and straight—
But how do you play your game with her her Who is sharing your love and your fate?

It isn't the game you play with the But the game that you play with her That counts when the records at last are furied
And you rake the chips in a whir.
Have you played her fair, have you played her true.
Have you dealt the cards four-square:
Have you known what she was and meant to you.
Have you always treated her fair? meant to you.

Have you always treated her fair?

—Baltimore Sun.

EARTH: THE PASSING OF A DANCER.

She is made of mist and silver, and her clinging dress is bound With the planets for her girdle and the stars to deck her round; And she dances, dances, dances, with her softly gliding feet Round and round her golden lover, and their burning glances meet.

Gentle-But Sure

How do you play your game with her?
Are you honest and true and right?
Are you careful and kindly and tender and square,
And pleasant and sweet and bright?
Do you keep your score when you play at life
With the woman you think you love As a man should do with his trusting wife the angels keep tally above?

She hath deeds of men for raiment,
And within her hair she places Shining souls of high adventure and the heauty of young faces;
And she dances, dances, dances, with her softly gliding feet Down and down eternal paths where past and future meet.

She hath gone; the silence echoes where but now her music thrilled And the floor of heaven darkens, and the sound of fact is stilled.
